

Relaxation and exercise

What to do...

Try to keep active on a daily basis. Half an hour of walking gives you fresh air, helps your circulation and makes your muscles stronger.

Swimming is very good when you are pregnant, as the water supports your body so you can exercise and relax at the same time.

Some local swimming pools offer aquanatal classes. You could keep fit and meet other pregnant mums.

